

Charles Bean

Charles Bean (MA, Cambridge; PhD, MIT) is Deputy Governor for Monetary Policy at the Bank of England. Prior to that, he was Executive Director and Chief Economist at the Bank and Professor of Economics and Head of Department at the London School of Economics (until September 2000). He has published widely, in both professional journals and more popular media and has served on the boards of several academic journals. He has also served in a variety of public policy roles, including: as consultant to HM Treasury; as special adviser to both the Treasury Committee and the House of Commons, and the Economic and Monetary Affairs Committee (Labour Group) of the European Parliament; and as special adviser on the House of Lords enquiry into the European Central Bank.