

Shaun Mundy is a consultant, specialising in financial capability and financial services regulation. His clients include the OECD, World Bank, CGAP (Consultative Group to Assist the Poor), the Microfinance Centre (MFC) for Central & Eastern Europe and the New Independent States, CfBT Education Trust, GIZ (German Society for International Cooperation), FinMark Trust, the Bank of Uganda and the Central Bank of Azerbaijan. Since 2008, he has worked in Azerbaijan, Kazakhstan, Kenya, Moldova, South Africa, Tanzania, Uganda, UK, Ukraine, USA and Zambia. He is a frequent speaker at international conferences and is the author of a report, published by the OECD in 2008, on financial education in schools, colleges and universities; wrote two chapters of “Financial Capability and Consumer Protection – A way Forward to Financial Inclusion in Africa”, published in 2010 by Making Finance Work for Africa; is the author of a Perspective Piece “Financial capability: Why is it important and how can it be improved?”, published in 2011 by CfBT Education Trust; and is co-author of a forthcoming CGAP Focus Note on financial capability. Shaun runs his own consultancy firm, Shaun Mundy Consultancy Limited, and is Senior Vice-President of the Financial Literacy Group, based in Washington DC.

Shaun was head of the Financial Capability Department at the UK's Financial Services Authority (FSA) from 2003-07, where he led a team of 70 staff and managed a budget of £20 million per year. In this capacity, he led the development and implementation of the UK's national strategy on financial capability. Shaun had previously held a number of other senior positions at the FSA and at predecessor financial services regulators.

Shaun's earlier career was spent at the UK's Home Office and Cabinet Office.

Shaun has an MA in Economics and Politics and a Diploma in Criminology, both from Emmanuel College, Cambridge.